

WEBSITE PRIVACY POLICY

Abdominopelvic Health, PLLC is committed to protecting the privacy of all visitors this website. This privacy policy, along with this website's conditions of use, explains how we gather and use your information as it relates to your activities on this website. This website is owned and managed by Abdominopelvic Health, PLLC ("Abdominopelvic Health," "us," "our," or "we").

By using this website, you consent to the collection, use, and disclosure of your information as described below. Abdominopelvic Health may change this policy without notice, and your continued use signifies that you agree to be bound by any changes.

WEBSITE PRIVACY POLICY

1. WHAT INFORMATION DOES ABDOMINOPELVIC HEALTH COLLECT FROM WEBSITE VISITORS?

What technical information does Abdominopelvic Health collect?

The website management system routinely collects information about the origin and site navigation of visitors to this website. This data might include technical information (e.g.: your processor type, processor speed, operating system type, browser type, audio devices, modem devices, video cards, page views, and protocol address). Such information is not linked to any of your personal identifying information. Abdominopelvic Health uses this data to modify this website.

What personal information does Abdominopelvic Health collect?

Abdominopelvic Health only collects your personal identifying information if you expressly provide it.

Does Abdominopelvic Health use cookies to collect information?

Abdominopelvic Health may also use cookies to collect anonymized information about how you use this website. We do this to improve the website and personalize your visit experience. Cookies are small data text files that are sent from a server computer to your computer during a web browsing session. The cookies are typically stored on your computer's hard drive, and websites use them to simulate a continuous connection to that site and to allow a computer to automatically identify your browser when you visit the website. Some browsers automatically accept cookies. However, you may be able to prevent cookies by changing your browser's settings. If you disable cookies, it may impair your ability to use some features of this website.

Please visit www.allaboutcookies.org if you want to learn more about cookies.

2. HOW DOES ABDOMINOPELVIC HEALTH USE VISITORS' INFORMATION?

Does Abdominopelvic Health use visitors' personally identifiable information?

Abdominopelvic Health may use your personally identifiable information, shared by you, as follows:

- if you elect to receive information about Abdominopelvic Health's programs, items, or services, to provide you with such information, including marketing and promotional materials;
- to improve this website; and
- to create non-personal, summary or aggregate data, for business analysis, market analysis, communications management, research, planning, or any other lawful purpose.

Abdominopelvic Health does not sell or lease your information without your consent.

How to opt-out of our communications.

If you no longer wish to receive our marketing or promotional communications, please let us know.

3. DO NOT PROVIDE PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION.

Although Abdominopelvic Health takes the confidentiality of its visitors and clients seriously as described in the privacy policy, Abdominopelvic Health's activities as it relates to this website, the Content, and the Service do not comply with Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act ("HIPAA").

Do not use, provide, transmit, store, or disclose any health information that constitutes protected health information ("PHI") through this website. Abdominopelvic Health accepts no affirmative duty to learn whether you provide, transmit, store, or disclose PHI while using this website, the Content, or the Service but if Abdominopelvic Health has actual knowledge that you are using, providing, transmitting, storing, or disclosing PHI it may revoke your access to the website, the Content and the Service.

If you use, provide, transmit, store, or disclose PHI in connection with this website, the Content, or the Service, you agree to indemnify Abdominopelvic Health against any damages, losses, liabilities, judgments, costs or expenses (including reasonable attorney fees and costs) arising out such use, provision, transmission, storage, or disclosure of PHI.

4. THIS WEBSITE IS NOT INTENDED FOR CHILDREN.

This website is not intended or designed to attract children under the age of 18. Abdominopelvic Health does not collect personally identifiable information from any person known by Abdominopelvic Health to be a child under the age of 18. Should Abdominopelvic Health inadvertently come to possess personally identifiable information about a child under the age of 18, Abdominopelvic Health will not knowingly disclose contact information relating to a child under the age 18 to any third-party.

5. ARE WEBSITE COMMUNICATIONS SECURE?

The confidentiality of communications through this website cannot be guaranteed.

This website provides you the option to communicate with Abdominopelvic Health through email. Most email is unencrypted, which means that an unauthorized individual might be able to intercept email messages that are exchanged with Abdominopelvic Health. You agree that Abdominopelvic Health is not responsible for the privacy of any email messages.

6. HOW SECURE ARE THIRD-PARTY WEBSITES TO WHICH ABDOMINOPELVIC HEALTH PROVIDES LINKS?

The website occasionally provides links to third-party websites. By clicking on these links, you demonstrate that you understand Abdominopelvic Health is not responsible and does control any information on these websites. Before clicking on these links, you should review those websites' privacy policies and terms of use.

7. HOW DOES ABDOMINOPELVIC HEALTH MONITOR ITS SOCIAL MEDIA?

Abdominopelvic Health is active on social media.

Abdominopelvic Health encourages your participation in its social media channels, including blogs, Facebook, Twitter, Tumblr, YouTube, and LinkedIn (“social media”). This list may be expanded without notice, and this social media policy applies to all of our activities on any social media outlet both on the website and through our affiliates.

By participating in our social media activities, you agree that Abdominopelvic Health may monitor, and at its sole direction, remove any inappropriate postings or content.

Abdominopelvic Health’s social media publications do not constitute medical or healthcare advice, even if the posting user is a licensed healthcare professional. If you have a medical issue, you should personally consult with a healthcare provider. In an emergency, you should call 911.

What you should not post on Abdominopelvic Health’s social media:

Abdominopelvic Health reminds you that your activities on its social media are public. Anything that you provide on Abdominopelvic Health’s social media is publicly available, and your decision to post something may be irrevocable, or incapable of being undone. Oftentimes, information shared on social media cannot be un-shared. You are reminded to be careful to not disclose personal identifiable information, such as your location, medical records, or financial information.

By participating in Abdominopelvic Health’s social media, you agree that you are responsible for all your content and activities. You specifically agree not to:

- misrepresent yourself or use another person’s identity;
- engage in personal attacks, defamation, harassment, spam, offensive content, aggressive behavior, or illegal activities; or
- publish illegal, obscene, defamatory, threatening, unlawful, disruptive, profane, harassing, or abusive content.

Your use also signals that you agree that Abdominopelvic Health may (but has no duty to) monitor, prohibit, restrict, block, suspend, terminate, or delete your access to its social media at any time. It may review, edit, and/or delete anything you publish on its social media without notice and in its sole discretion.

Who can share what visitors post to Abdominopelvic Health’s social media?

Visitors who post content on Abdominopelvic Health’s social media, give Abdominopelvic Health a non-exclusive, royalty-free, and worldwide license to reproduce, distribute, edit, reformat, publish, or display the content for any purpose. Visitors also acknowledge that Abdominopelvic Health cannot and does not control the conduct of other visitors to its social media who may reproduce visitors’ posts.

The opinions expressed by individuals who are unaffiliated with Abdominopelvic Health are not the opinions of Abdominopelvic Health. Your use of this website signifies your acceptance of these terms.

This website privacy policy is incorporated into this website's conditions of use. By using this website, you signify that you have read, understood, and agree to be bound by this privacy policy and the conditions of use. Do not use this website if you do not agree to this privacy policy and the conditions of use.

Your continued use of this website signifies your agreement to any changes this privacy policy and/or the conditions of use.

8. CALIFORNIA SHINE THE LIGHT LAW.

To the extent that Abdominopelvic Health is subject to California Civil Code Section 1798.83 (commonly known as "Shine the Light" law) it will comply.
